Summary of reasons for classification:

The DVD Beneath The Valley Of The Ultravixens is classified as:
Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years.

The DVD contains a feature that is identical to the 35mm film of the same name (also known as Russ Meyer's Beneath The Valley Of The Ultravixens) previously examined and classified by the Office of Film and Literature Classification in December 1997 (OFLC No. 9700300). The film was classified as "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years", with the descriptive note "Contains explicit sex scenes".

As well as the feature, the DVD includes standard DVD components such as a chapter selection facility and extra material. The additional material includes a director's commentary, a 15 min interview with the female star of the feature, the original trailer, three other old trailers for very similar Russ Meyer films, and two contemporary trailers. The additional components are of a similar nature to the feature and therefore do not require any change to the original classification.
